

Where a higher y-value indicates greater dispersion/variability.
Large shapes represent age group category dispersion;
raw data represent individual category dispersion